FILM TITLE: TBD

LOGLINE: TBD

GENRE: Documentary, Social issues

PRODUCERS: Humanity Rising, The Tampa Bay International Gay and Lesbian Film Festival

ESTIMATED BUDGET: $50,000

STRUCTURE & INTENT:

- This documentary will be a collection of interviews by and of the young transgender community as well as LGBTQ+ community professionals, advocates, and allies.
- The intention of this film is to showcase the real stories of those impacted by the current issues plaguing the transgender community and what they believe you could do to help stop it. By uplifting the inspiring voices of the transgender community and sharing stories of resilience, the documentary hopes to ignite action and change.

SYNOPSIS:

- Through interviews with young transgender individuals, LGBTQ+ community members, advocates, professionals, and allies, this documentary intends to be a raw look at the state of the transgender community during a time of intensifying stigma, bigotry, and oppression.

AUDIENCE:

- LGBTQIA+ youth and allies who are experiencing similar struggles and want to see or make a change. We aim to represent our intended audience and show them relatable content by featuring teens and young adults.

APPROACH:

- This documentary will focus on transgender issues, experiences, and related solutions to address the growing challenges the community is facing. We wish to represent the diversity of both the struggles and the people of the transgender community. So, we intend to gather interviews through self-submission instead of traveling to film or filming on a designated set.
- Chosen interviewees will submit video-recorded responses to predetermined questions. The videos will come together to make up the film. It will get distributed after debuting at the Tampa Bay Transgender Film Festival. We wish to show the documentary in various settings, such as companies and schools, to spread awareness and inspire systematic, long-lasting solutions.
